

Esteemed French Dr. Didier Raoult Testifies Person Behind Death Threats He Received Is Top Doctor Linked to Gilead Pharmaceuticals

GP thegatewaypundit.com/2020/07/esteemed-french-dr-didier-raoult-testifies-person-behind-death-threats-top-doctor-linked-gilead-pharmaceuticals/

July 31, 2020

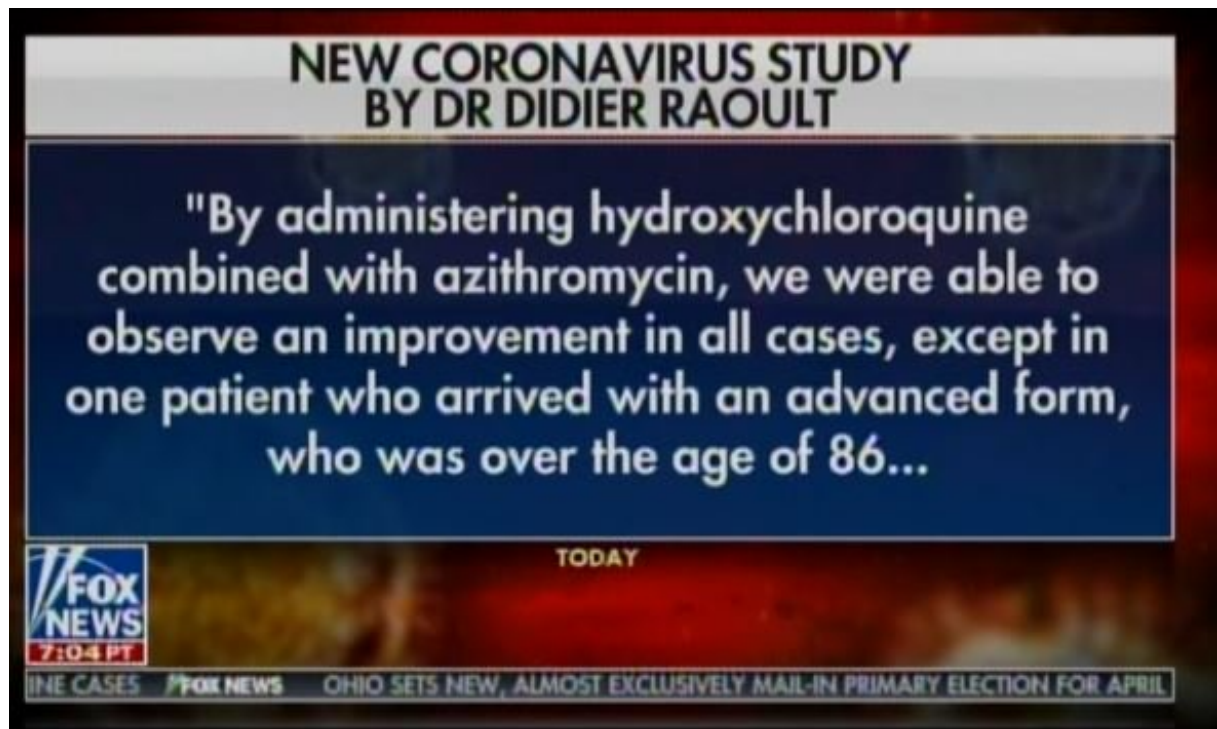

Way back in late March Laura Ingraham reported on the latest study by the French research team led by the renowned epidemiologist Dr. Didier Raoult that was able to repeat his findings from a previous study.

This time Dr. Raoult administered hydroxychloroquine and azithromycin to 80 patients and observed improvement in EVERY CASE except for a very sick 86-year-old with an advanced form of coronavirus infection.

Advertisement - story continues below

This was very promising news once again from Dr. Didier Raoult.

TRENDING: Federal Government and Yale Are Holding Clinical Trials on How Best to 'Persuade' Americans to Take COVID-19 Vaccines

Unfortunately, this doctor's work with the cheap readily available drug helped President Trump so the the liberal media either ignored, attacked or mocked his research.

Dr. Raoult tweeted his results.

Translated: Our two articles published tonight help to demonstrate:

1. The effectiveness of our protocol, on 80 patients.
2. The relevance of the combination of hydroxychloroquine and azithromycin, thanks to research carried out in our P3 containment laboratory.

Advertisement - story continues below

Nos deux articles publiés ce soir permettent de contiuier à démontrer :

1. L'efficacité de notre protocole, sur 80 patients.
2. La pertinence de l'association de l'hydroxychloroquine et de l'azithromycine, grâce à des recherches réalisées dans notre laboratoire de confinement P3. <https://t.co/Y91bsFOgB2>

— Didier Raoult (@raoult_didier) March 27, 2020

Nouvel article publié on-line par mes équipes : démonstration in vitro de la synergie hydroxychloroquine/azithromycine pour contrer la réplication du SARS-COV2

In vitro testing of Hydroxychloroquine and Azithromycin on SARS-CoV-2 shows synergistic effect <https://t.co/KUaag6N5FF>

— Didier Raoult (@raoult_didier) March 27, 2020

It is ABSOLUTELY CLEAR TODAY that Dr. Raoult was correct in his findings.

Today there are over 5 global studies that support the doctor's findings that HCQ is a cheap and very effective treatment for coronavirus.

Unfortunately, this was not the preferred treatment by professionals who hoped to reap vast rewards for their own treatment for the coronavirus. Gilead pharmaceuticals was hoping to promote its own drug remdesivir as a potential option to treat the disease. Gilead had the support of Dr. Anthony Fauci who downplayed HCQ at every opportunity.

Advertisement - story continues below

The opposition to Dr. Didier Raoult was so strong that he even received death threats.

During testimony before parliament Dr. Raoult told lawmakers under oath that the person who sent him death threats was a top recipient of Gilead Pharmaceuticals.

Via Covexit:

Professor Raoult testified that, shortly after he started to talk about HCQ as a treatment, in March, he received anonymous death threats. He filed a complaint with the police, and an enquiry was opened by the French judiciary. The medical doctor behind the threats was found and happens to be from a Nantes university hospital. It happened to be the person who received the most money from Gilead over the past 6 years. Professor Raoult presents this as a "personal experience." In his testimony, he remained diplomatic and suggested "to be attentive to this level of problem."

Advertisement - story continues below

International politics and greed are preventing millions of people from receiving the life-saving treatment of HCQ to battle the coronavirus.

Hopefully, some day the criminal minds behind the assault on HCQ will be brought to justice.